PERFORMING DOGS UNDER STRICT WATCH

That the performing dogs, which are to appear at the Bijou, were not allowed entrance by special dispensation of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry, who established the four months' dog quarantine, is the claim of the theater people. The performing dogs are in quarantine just as much as were the pet dogs of Mrs. Geo. Pullman and Mrs. Frank Wilbur of Boston, or of Mrs. Wm. Sinden, who complained of the "special dispensation" in a communication to the Bulletin yesterday. But there is a difference.

The performing dogs have specially appointed watchmen who are on duty night and day at the Bijou, where a strict watch is being maintained to keep other dogs from coming in contact with the educated canines and causing a commotion over the dog quarantine. It was only by agreeing to pay all the expenses of maintaining such a quarantine were the show people able to gain entrance to the territory for the performing dogs, according to a statement of the dogs' trainer, Mlle. Lordy, which was made through a spokesman today.

"It will cost us some dollars for bringing the dogs ashore here on account of the dog quarantine. We have to pay the expenses of two watchmen and keep the dogs within the confines of the Bijou theater. If we had known of the dog quarantine we would not have come this way. The American Consul at Melbourne assured us that there was no dog quarantine at this port. We were surprised to find such the case, but we would rather pay the seventy dollars than lose four months' work," says the spokesman.

Now it is claimed by pointing to this precedent all the critics of the dog quarantine can escape the rigors of the regulation—if they want to bear the expense of having a private quarantine—as have the Bijou doggies. Anyway, don't take your dogs to the Bijou Monday night or any other night while the performing dogs are there or your dog may be cast into quarantine for four months.

$500 REWARD FOR SHOE TO PROTECT HORSES

NEW YORK—For the invention of a device to protect horses in the city streets an award of $500 was made Saturday to Dr. George W. Kinnel, through the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Contestants from all over the world tried for the reward, which was offered by Mrs. Elmer J. Post, a novelist, and 255 inventions were submitted.

The device of the winner, who is an American, is intended to be attached to the hoof and to prevent horses from slipping, also enabling the animal to draw heavier loads with a minimum of strain. The gift of the money will be made today by Mrs. Post through the society. For nearly 10 months the more practical of the models submitted have been tested by experts.

MOTT-SMITH ISSUES CLEAN-UP WARNINGS

"Every householder is expected to clean up and dispose of his own rubbish before clean-up day. Don't be a 'hang-back'."

"Get away your own rubbish before clean-up day. Don't expect your neighbors to do it for you if you want to retain their respect."

"Your civic pride will be measured by the amount of rubbish found on your premises on clean-up day. This means you, individually, and is more important than the community reputation. Do your share."

These warnings are issued by Mott-Smith, not in his capacity as acting governor, but as manager of the campaign of the civic organizations actively interested in improving the appearance and health conditions of Honolulu.

He spent most of his time yesterday in arranging for the campaign, including assignment of health board officials and inspectors to various districts and of club members to others. Forty sanitary and mosquito inspectors have been appointed to districts over which they will have direct supervision on clean-up day.

FIGHT IS BEING MADE ON DILLINGHAM BILL

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Representative Burnett of the House Immigration Committee today offered Representative Hays of California, chairman of the sub-committee on Representative Baker's Japanese exclusion bill, to call his committee together for a hearing on the bill next Tuesday.

The other sub-committee members are Curley of Massachusetts and Brown of West Virginia. Representative Hays says he has been holding up consideration of the Baker bill until the Dillingham immigration bill has been disposed of. Many labor organizations and Hebrew and Italian societies have filed protests against the Dillingham bill with the California Congressmen.

Surman William F. Hooper of the New Shoreham life saving station has been appointed captain of the new Green Hill, R. I. station, and took charge of the place recently.
